

"It's a desire to stay in the game. It's a desire to still have some relationship with your former clients or your former work associates."
Dick Evans

"I'm a Rainmaker because it's really rewarding and it's just a hell of a lot of fun."
Fred Ertz

"It's that ability for you to be yourself, to be of value, to not become stale and not be put up in the closet, but to participate and to be in the community."
Dan Cahalen

FRIENDS OF SUMMIT (FOS)

Don't have much time—that's ok—we welcome you to join the Friends of Summit (FOS) network, where our friends serve as our brand ambassadors, referring qualified individuals to Summit Financial. As our friend, you warmly introduce a friend or colleague, and Summit will take it from there.

UNMATCHED SUPPORT, UNDER ONE ROOF.

Blaze Your Own Trail

Forge Your Path to the Summit

Summit Financial Group saw a need in the marketplace to help top-earning, retired professionals and those in transition find a renewed purpose while continuing to build personal wealth. This formalized fraternity of like-minded individuals looking to do something paramount with their lives has become our exclusive inner circle of Summit Rainmakers.

WHY JOIN?

Becoming a Summit Rainmaker allows you to pursue what matters most by leveraging your relationships, influence, and professional experiences. It's an effective way to continue being active in the business world, enabling you to create a stream of income that can enhance or supplement retirement. The Rainmakers' role is to serve as the relationship manager. All sales, marketing, service, and design are provided by the skilled and highly credentialed team of executives at Summit.

Almost half (46%) of Americans aged 60 to 75 surveyed by AAG said they plan to work part-time after they retire from full-time work
